

Sutter Davis Hospital

2015

Our not-for-profit Sutter Health network delivers high-quality services and personalized care in more than 100 Northern California communities.

In Davis, we provide integrated health care services through Sutter Davis Hospital and Sutter Medical Foundation.

We excel with top-rated health care.

Because our doctors, hospitals and care teams partner together, we consistently rank among top performers in providing quality patient care both nationally and in California.

At Sutter Davis Hospital:

- We are one of 2015's 150 Best Places to Work in Healthcare, according to Becker's Healthcare. Organizations are selected for their benefits, wellness programs, commitment to diversity and inclusion, professional development opportunities and environments that promotes employee satisfaction.
- We are the only medical center in Northern California to be named a "Best Place to Work in Healthcare" in 2014 by Modern Healthcare magazine.
- We earned the 2014 Top 100 Hospital distinction from Truven Health Analytics, marking the fifth consecutive year to win this award.

We give back to our communities.

In 2014, Sutter Health provided $767 million to care for patients who couldn't afford to pay and to support community programs and services. In fact, our hospitals care for more Medi-Cal patients in Northern California than anyone else.

At Sutter Davis Hospital we are part of a Sacramento Sierra effort that:

- Invested more than $217 million in charity care and community benefit programs in support of the poor and underserved and to strengthen the broader community.
- Contributed nearly $6.5 million in 2014 in community benefit and charity care investments to the underserved in Yolo County.
- Make critical investments in local Federally Qualified Health Centers and other critical community partners in an effort to help increase their capacity to serve the underinsured.

Just as we invest in our communities, our communities invest in us:

- More than $570,000 in philanthropic gifts supported programs, services and equipment to ensure the highest level of excellence in patient care. This includes upgrades to our emergency room, infusion center and birthing center, as well as training and education for nurses.

We expand health care access.

As a not-for-profit organization, Sutter Health partners with community clinics and programs that provide access to essential primary health care, food, shelter and social services to those in need.

At Sutter Davis Hospital:

- We support CommuniCare, a local Federally Qualified Health Center that provides care to thousands of underserved and vulnerable patients. Limited access to care remains the top priority in the greater Sacramento area.
- We are longtime partners of Yolo Children's Alliance, whose mission is to strengthen and support prevention and intervention services and resources for children, youth and their families. Each year, our employees support families identified by Yolo Children's Alliance through our Holiday Adopt a Family program.

By investing in technologies, we also advance care quality, convenience and service.

At Sutter Davis Hospital:

- We implemented the electronic medical record to provide physicians and employees with the most powerful information technologies that advance higher quality and safer care.
- We are piloting telepsych services to patients with a variety of conditions, which will reduce wait time for patients and travel time for providers.

We help drive our local economy.

Our hospitals are among the largest employers in many Northern California communities. Since 2000, we invested about $7.2 billion to build and improve health care facilities. This investment created nearly 200,000 construction jobs.

At Sutter Davis Hospital we:

- Employ 431 employees, many of whom live in Yolo County
- Invested $35 million in salaries and benefits in 2014

We're taking steps to make health care more affordable.

We help hold the line on health care price increases and make our services more affordable by working relentlessly to:

- Eliminate unnecessary tests and treatments
- Improve care coordination
- Help chronically ill patients avoid unnecessary emergency room visits and hospital stays
- Standardize processes and streamline business functions

At Sutter Davis Hospital:

- Sutter Health's Advanced Illness Management (AIM) program provides care management, care coordination and palliative care support for persons with advancing illness. More than 9,600 people have enrolled in the Sutter Health program in the past three years, and today we support 2,600 people every day under a model that aligns care and support with the evolving personal goals of the patient. Preliminary estimates show that we reduced hospitalizations by 59 percent over one 90-day period, saving government payers and commercial plans an estimated $80 million over three years. Total cost of care has also been reduced by 52 percent.
- Our Sutter Care Coordination Program cares for patients with multiple chronic conditions to address their physical and emotional well-being. Inappropriate admissions and readmissions are avoided through proactive care coordination. This Sacramento Sierra program reduced emergency department visits by 36 percent and hospitalizations by 33 percent.
- Sutter Health's continued dedication to promoting safer birth experiences for moms and their babies, which has resulted in our rate of elective deliveries before 39 weeks dropping to approximately 1 percent across our network. Research shows that many of a child's vital organs, including the brain and lungs, continue developing during the final weeks of pregnancy. By partnering with parents to avoid planned induced labor or C-sections before 39 weeks, we reduce the risk of complications.
